Dear Immigration Officer,

I am writing this letter to respectfully request that you waive the penalty on my Visa as a result of my past criminal record and kindly reconsider my application.

I completely understand that Canada cannot accept anybody that will jeopardize the safety of her citizens. However, in this case, I believe this does not apply to me.

I am 65 years old the crime on my record is of theft which I committed when I was only 18. I take full responsibility for my actions, however, I am not the same person I was when I was 18. This was my first conviction and since I have not committed any other offense.

I am a hardworking grandfather and I only wish to visit Canada to spend more time with my children and grandchildren.

Kindly consider my request.

Sincerely,
John Foster
